T. J. REDMON, WHO KILLED MISS VANN, DISMISSED

In the Louisville Police Court, Wednesday morning the case against Mr. T. J. Redmon, a prominent farmer of Bourbon county, charged with manslaughter, for having run down and fatally injured Miss Elizabeth Vann, a stenographer, in Louisville, on the evening of July 9, was dismissed by Judge Boldrick.

In dismissing the case the presiding Judge said:

"The first thing the court always looks for in a case of this kind is whether the accident was due to negligence, and if due to negligence, was it criminal negligence. The evidence shows that the defendant was disconcerted by his collision a few seconds before with a motorcycle rider. According to the evidence of the motorcycleist, his motor was shut off and he was merely coasting; under these circumstances a motorcycle is hard to manage. It has not been shown whether the automobile ran into the motorcycle or the motorcycle ran into the automobile. At any rate, Mr. Redmon was disconcerted by the collision."

"Were I deciding as a juror whether the family of Miss Vann should receive damages, I certainly should give them substantial damages. As to the question, however, which we are called upon to decide, I feel that the defendant is certainly not guilty of criminal negligence."

James P. Edwards and Judge W. G. Dearing were the attorneys for the defense, while J. Wheeler Campbell and Camden McAtee represented the prosecution.

One witness testified that Mr. Redmon did not blow his horn. In opposition to this were the statements of all the occupants of the automobile, who said that the horn was being blown constantly at the time of the accident. They were positive that Miss Vann backed into the machine.

A few seconds before Miss Vann was struck Mr. Redmon's automobile had grazed the motorcycle of F. G. Böhlinger, throwing him from his machine. Mr. Redmon and other witnesses said that the motorcycle was swerving badly when it was struck. Böhlinger himself admitted that he was coasting, a condition under which a motorcycle is difficult to manage. When the automobile struck the motorcycle, Mr. Redmon looked to the side of the car to see if Böhlinger was hurt, and he was just looking around when his machine struck Miss Vann. As it could not be proven in court whose fault the motorcycle accident was, Mr. Redmon, according to the ruling of the court, could not be blamed for the accident which happened to Miss Vann when when Redmon turned his head to see whether Böhlinger was hurt.

A deputation of leading citizens of Paris, including State Senator Claude M. Thomas, was present to attest to the good character of Mr. Redmon.

STREET CAR STRIKE ENDS WITH AGREEMENT.

The street car strike which has been on in Lexington since midnight Friday, and which affected this city, was ended Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, when Acting Governor E. J. McDermott's compromise measure was accepted and signed by the company and then by the strikers.

The chief points of the articles of agreement are as follows:
The company recognizes the carmen's union.

Grievance Committee is to be permitted in case anything arises between the company or the men that cannot be readily adjusted by them.

The company may employ non-union men, which means the open shop.

The company agrees to reinstate the recently discharged motormen, conductors and shop men.

The men may all return to their former positions.

All employees who did not join the carmen's union are to be retained in the service.

No badge or emblem of the association is to be worn by the men on the cars.

The contract is to remain in force two years from date.

Interurban cars began running into this city Wednesday morning, and the city car began making its usual trips, following the close of the agreement.

STOMACH TROUBLE FOR FIVE YEARS

Majority of Friends Thought Mr. Hughes Would Die, But One Helped Him to Recovery.

Pomeroyton, Ky.—In interesting advices from this place, Mr. A. J. Hughes writes as follows: "I was down with stomach trouble for five (5) years, and would have sick headache so bad, at times, that I thought surely I would die. I tried different treatments, but they did not seem to do me any good.

I got so bad, I could not eat or sleep, and all my friends, except one, thought I would die. He advised me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, and quit taking other medicines. I decided to take his advice, although I did not have any confidence in it.

I have now been taking Black-Draught for three months, and it has cured me—haven't had those awful sick headaches since I began using it.

I am so thankful for what Black-Draught has done for me."

Thedford's Black-Draught has been found a very valuable medicine for derangements of the stomach and liver. It is composed of pure, vegetable herbs, contains no dangerous ingredients, and acts gently, yet surely. It can be freely used by young and old, and should be kept in every family chest.

SCABIES EPIDEMIC PROVES COSTLY ONE.

In a report filed by Dr. A. J. Payne, of the Federal Government, with the Live Stock Sanitary Board, it is shown that it cost $100,000 to eradicate the scabies from the sheep of this State. The Federal quarantine was issued on July 1, 1912, and lifted May 1, 1913. During this period the United States Government spent $35,450, and the counties, States and individuals, $63,634, thus making a total of $99,085. Dr. Payne says in the report that the incidental expenses not included in his tabulation would bring the amount to over $100,000. Of the $63,634 the counties incurred an expense of $49,528, individuals $11,872 and the State $2,234. Dr. Payne will remain in Kentucky to assist the Live Stock Sanitary Board in keeping down diseases and epidemics from the stock until the next meeting of the General Assembly, when that body will be asked to appropriate funds for the employment of a State Veterinarian.

RID YOUR CHILDREN OF WORMS.

You can change fretful, ill-tempered children into healthy, happy youngsters by ridding them of worms. Tossing, rolling, grinding of teeth, crying out while asleep, accompanied by intense thirst, pains in the stomach and bowels, feverishness and bad breath, are symptoms that indicate worms. Kickapoo Worm Killer, a pleasant candy lozenge, expels the worms, regulates the bowels, restores your children to health and happiness. Mrs. J. A. Brisben, of Elgin, Ill., says: "I have used Kickapoo Worm Killer for years and it entirely rid my children of worms. I would not be without it" Guaranteed. All druggists, or by mail. Price 25c. Tender Heart.

An Irishman, being asked by his angry master what he did to the dog every day to make him cry out as if cruelly treated, replied: "Cruelly trait him, yer honor? Not!! Not Hard to Deceive Moslems.

Times have changed since Captain Burton, 60 years ago, made a pilgrimage to Mecca at the peril of his life. A recent account of such a pilgrimage, by A. J. B. Wavell, says that with a passable knowledge of Arabic and of Moslem ceremonial, and with due precautions as to avoiding pilgrims from the country to which one pretends to belong, "the pilgrimage to Mecca may be made in disguise without running any risk worth mentioning."

BEST MEDICINE IN THE WORLD.

"My little girl had dysentery very bad. I thought she would die. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy cured her, and I can truthfully say that I think it is the best medicine in the world," writes Mrs. William Orvis, Claire, Mich. For sale by all dealers.

Aid for Short-Sighted.

A German doctor has devised a revolutionary method of correcting poor eyesight. It is a telescope spectacle and is claimed to be the best and healthiest method for a near-sighted person to bring objects close to the eyes and thus see well at a distance. The glasses are a combination of a convex objective with a concave eyepiece and have to be fitted most carefully to each person.

SURPRISING CURE OF STOMACH TROUBLE.

When you have trouble with your stomach or chronic constipation, don't imagine that your case is beyond help just because your doctor fails to give you relief. Mrs. G. Stengel, Plainfield, N. J., writes: "For over a month past I have been troubled with my stomach. Everything I ate upset it terribly. One of Chamberlain's advertising booklets came to me. After reading a few of the letters from people who had been cured by Chamberlain's Tablets, I decided to try them. I have taken nearly three-fourths of a package of them and can now eat almost everything that I want." For sale by all dealers.

Anger is Not Manly.

Let this truth be present to thee in the excitement of anger—that to be moved by passion is not manly, but that mildness and gentleness, as they are more agreeable to human nature, so also are they more manly, for in the same degree in which a man's mind is nearer to freedom from all passion, in the same degree also is it nearer to strength.—Marcus Aurelius.

THE KING OF ALL LAXATIVES.

For constipation, headaches, indigestion and dyspepsia, use Dr. King's New Life Pills. Paul Mathulke, of Buffalo, New York, says they are the "King of all laxatives. They are a blessing to all my family and I always keep a box of them at home." Get a box and get well. Price 25c. Recommended by L. Oberdorfer and W. T. Brooks.

If you are satisfied with bad roads, keep Dundon in office. If you want good roads for the taxes you pay vote against him. Vote for McMillan for County Judge.

FARM ANIMALS

BUTTERMILK GIVEN TO HOGS

Better Results Would Be Secured If Not Put Into Ration Until Pigs Are Five Weeks Old.

To an inquiry Prof. W. H. Pew of the Iowa Agricultural college gives the following suggestions on feeding buttermilk to hogs:

Buttermilk when free from water, used for washing the butter, makes excellent feed for hogs. The great trouble as we find it, coming from the creameries is that it is hard to determine how much excess water is contained in it. At the present price for feeds, I think you will be very safe in paying 20 cents per 100 pounds for buttermilk that is free from excess of water.

In regard to the way it is fed, I may say that for sows that are nursing young pigs, it should be fed in very small quantities, if at all, and I would suggest diluting it. Better results would be had if the buttermilk is not put into the ration until the pigs are at least four or five weeks old. It is particularly good for growing pigs, as well as fattening hogs. The show farrows at this college are always fed and finished on corn and buttermilk.

A good ration for the sows that are nursing pigs of any age when no trouble will be had from scouring, would be as follows: Cornmeal, one part; bran, two parts, with buttermilk three to four pounds for each pound of grain mixture.

Corn and buttermilk afford a very good ration for fattening hogs. For growing pigs it might be of advantage to make a slop of shorts and buttermilk and feed corn on the ear besides.

EXCELLENT FOR THE LAMBS

Wheatbran is Good Feed for Youngsters to Begin On—Give Abundance of Pasture if Possible.

A good flockmaster holds that for young lambs wheatbran is most excellent to begin with, and after they become stronger the bran should be mixed with corn meal in equal quarters. He says that oat meal, or oats when they can eat it, should be added to balance the ration, for oats is nearly a balanced food itself. After growing a little they will shell their own corn, if given to them on the cob. The lambs that are to be raised on the farm should not be forced so fast. They need plenty of food, but the grain ration should be small and no corn should be used. They should be given plenty of exercise and an abundance of good pasture if possible.

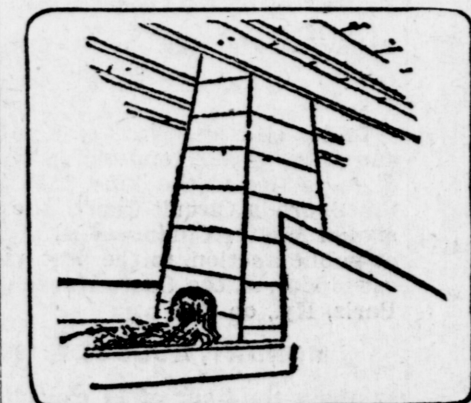

Corn tends to fatten and will produce uncertain breeders of short season. Wheat bran and oats are probably the two safest materials of food that can be used. When the grass becomes stronger and good in the spring, grain feeding is not needed for those lambs that are to remain on the farm, and only the corn will remain as the dry feed ration for the market lambs.

The grass is better than any other nitrogenous food.

PREVENTS WASTING OF HAY

Box or Chute Extends From Loft to Manger, and as Feed is Eaten More Comes From Top.

Box extends from loft to manger. It is two feet square at top and four feet at bottom. The hay slips down through box as fast as eaten, says the Prairie Farmer. Nail boards across bottom of box and let them extend out on the side where the opening is. Nail a six or eight inch board around the edge of these boards to form a kind of tray, and no hay will be wasted.

LIVE STOCK NOTES

An orchard makes an ideal pig pasture.

Shelters should be kept in order in every pig pasture.

Be sure that the weanings are not "run down" by flies.

Similarity of breeding insures offspring of greater value.

Slop will not quench a pig's thirst, especially during hot weather. Cowpeas planted in the corn rows make fine fall forage for hogs.

Caustic potash is used in removing horns from very young animals.

The orchard is good for the pigs, and the pigs are good for the orchard. We cannot grow pigs profitably without feed enough to keep them gaining steadily.

BRING DEAD TO LIFE

New York Doctor Claims to Have Performed Act.

Blood Transfusion Revivified Pneumonia Victim After Respiration Had Ceased—Dr. Sorel Talks of Operation.

New York.—The miracle of bringing the dead back to life, Dr. A. L. Sorel of Fordham university thinks, will be a scientific achievement of the future.

Dr. Sorel, attached to the staff of Flower hospital, has for five years conducted experiments of transfusion of blood, with results, he says, that are amazing.

Professor Sorel told of saving the life of a patient stricken with pneumonia by transfusion of blood to the left side of the heart after respiration had entirely ceased in the patient and the body was apparently moribund.

After explaining his experiments with transfusion of blood in animals, Professor Sorel said:

"An experiment with a pneumonia patient was perhaps not as spectacular. This patient was entirely without respiration from all known tests applied, and therefore actually moribund to all human knowledge, when I made a transfusion of blood from a normal man through the jugular vein of the patient. The return to life was prompt and recovery followed in due course.

"If such transfusions could be made promptly the loss of life could be materially lowered.

"In a recent test at Flower hospital I pumped all the blood from a dog until the animal lay absolutely lifeless. For fifteen minutes I allowed the animal to remain without a spark of life. The heart had stopped beating and every function of life had ceased.

"I connected the blood vessels of the dog with those of another dog and permitted the blood to flow. Inside of five minutes there was a complete return of life, and the dog soon was yelping in an entirely normal way. Other experiments with dogs have yielded results as amazing.

"When the way has been found to connect directly with the left side of the heart medical science will be able to restore human beings to life after all animation has been suspended, provided there is no organic trouble. The resuscitation will be effective in cases of gas or drug poisoning, hemorrhages, and such diseases as typhoid fever and pneumonia. Sudden deaths, by accident, when no vital organs have been crippled, will fall within the scope of the transfusion method.

"Under the new science it will be possible to restore life after it has been extinct for half an hour. I am devoting most of my time to these experiments and hope before long to be able to make an important announcement to the world of science."

BUY TIMARCHUS SILVER COIN

British Museum Acquires Relic of Babylon—Is Very Rare and Highly Prized.

London.—The British museum has just acquired a silver coin of Timarchus, Satrap of Babylon, part of the Syrian empire. Timarchus on the death of the reigning king of Syria, Antiochus IV., in 162 B.C., usurped the throne, refusing to acknowledge Demetrius and his wife, Laodice, the legitimate successors. Timarchus reigned only one year, during which time he struck a few coins, which are now very rare. Of these one is a unique gold coin now in the Berlin museum; another a unique silver coin of one drachm, which is in the British museum. Until recently no specimens of the larger four drachm silver coin was known to exist except one, which had been taken by the legitimate rulers, Demetrius and his wife, and reworked with their portraits. Last year a coin bearing the effigy of Timarchus was sold at an auction in Germany, and another example, taken to the British museum a short time ago, has now been secured for the national collection.

IS PROTOTYPE OF "OLD ABE"

Kentucky Farmer May Serve as Model for Sculptor in Making Lincoln Statue.

Louisville.—There is a possibility that George Grey Barnard, the New York sculptor who has come to Kentucky in search of a living model for the statue he is to make of Abraham Lincoln, will find his man in Ben A. Lee of Lebanon, Ky.

L. Bernard Thompson of Lebanon, having seen Mr. Barnard's advertisements, addressed a letter to him, saying that Mr. Lee, who is fifty years old, is so like the martyred president in form and feature that he is familiarly known as "Abe Lincoln."

Of Mr. Lee Mr. Thompson writes: "He is a farmer by occupation and strictly of the Anglo-Saxon type with the physical features of centuries ago."

Locates Sweetheart at "Movies." Craig, Cal.—While watching a moving picture here, Norman E. Lowe, recognized one of the actresses as his sweetheart, Miss Thelma Lumsden, from whom he was separated three years ago by the wrecking of an excursion boat in the Hudson river. Lowe wrote to her in care of the producers of the film and received a request to come at once.

REGISTER TOMORROW

In compliance with a provision of the primary election law, County Clerk Pearce Paton will on Saturday, July 19, conduct a special registration. This registration will be held in the office of the County Clerk from 6 a. m. until 5 p. m. and will be for the benefit of those voters who are qualified to vote, but for statutory reasons were unable to register last fall, and for those who have changed their place of residence since the last registration day.

A VOTER'S SENSIBLE VIEWS.

Editor Bourbon News:

Judge Dundon would shirk responsibility for the condition of the county roads by saying that the Magistrates are to blame and not he. This sounds like a boy who would escape the flogging he knows is due him by trying to throw the blame for his misdemeanor upon his companions.

Judge Dundon is just as much—in fact more responsible for the condition of the roads than any Magistrate, because he is the head of the Fiscal Court with power to call the Magistrates together at any time to attend to any business of the county which in his opinion demands attention.

Again, as the head of the Fiscal Court his influence is paramount and predominant, and any reasonable plan for improving the roads that he would insist upon would certainly be adopted. If not he could call the Court together for them to adopt and carry out some plan to discharge the duty which is imposed upon the Fiscal Court to keep the turnpikes in order.

After all, why any difficulty about the County Judge discharging his duty with reference to the turnpike and giving us good turnpikes in exchange for the tax collected each year for that purpose? Bourbon county tax payers pay into the treasury of Bourbon county forty or fifty thousand dollars a year to maintain her roads. With these figures before you ride over the roads of Bourbon county and see what we have in exchange for this annual tax. Some of the favored tax payers who live near the city of Paris on some highway that has received special attention have no conception of the miles and miles of turnpike in Bourbon county over which people are compelled to ride who pay taxes just as promptly as do the favored few who live on the favored pikes. This duty to provide the public with roads in consideration of the taxes the public pays is discharged in other counties without any difficulty. Then why not in Bourbon county?

All this talk about Judge Dundon not being responsible sounds as though the making and keeping up of the roads were a task which nobody could perform; whereas, the County Judges in other counties discharge this duty to the public without any difficulty whatever.

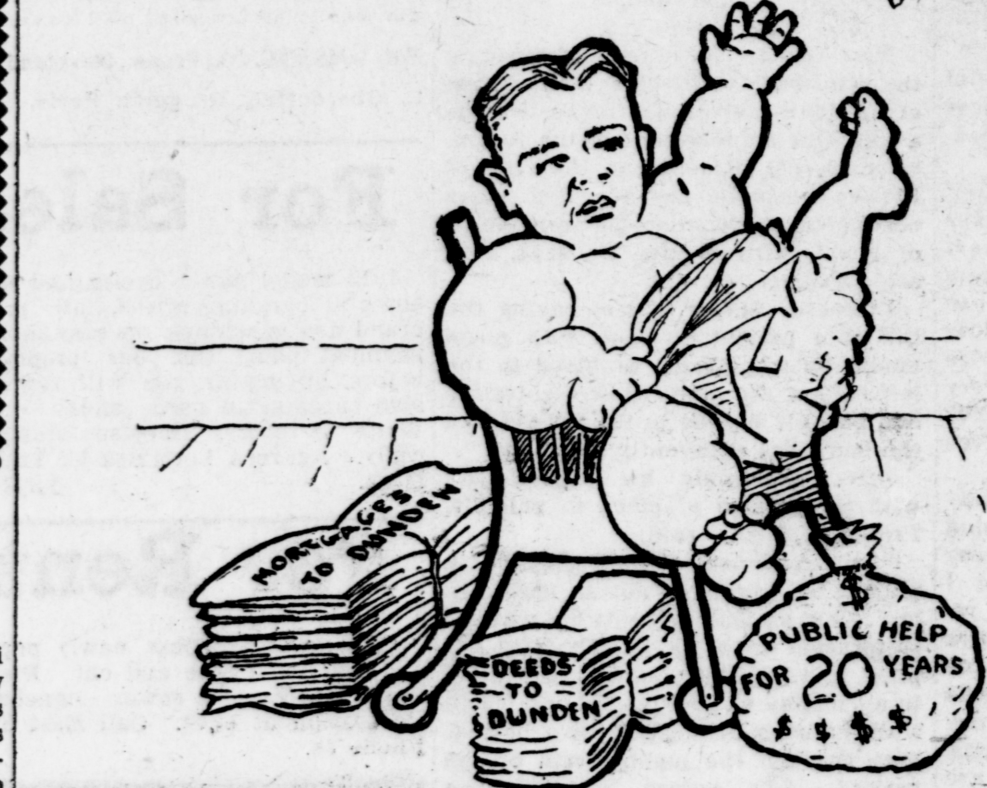

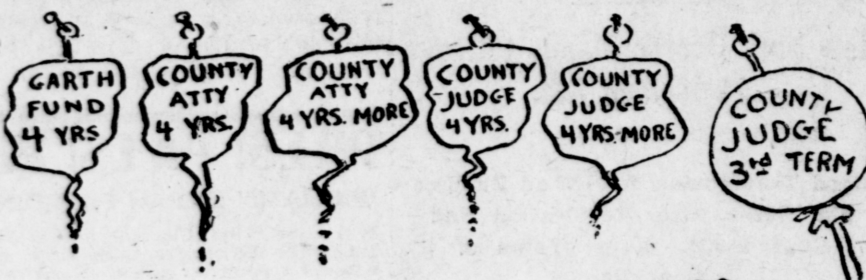

The trouble is Judge Dundon has been unwilling to interrupt the easy dignity with which he holds down the chair in his comfortable office in the Cour House long enough to ride out over the turnpikes of Bourbon county and see for himself what it is the people are making such a row about. The tax payers of Bourbon county know, or ought to know, that the highest court of this State has decided that the County Judge, as well as the Magistrates, is indictable by the Grand Jury for misconduct in office where in any county there is a failure to maintain the public roads in proper condition. Of course everybody knows that to decide that the County Judge may be indicted for this means that he is responsible for this condition of things, because you cannot punish a man for anything for which he is not responsible.

In the absence of any law on this subject the County Judge as well as the head of the Fiscal Court must be held accountable on the same principle that the President as the head of a Republican or Democratic administration is held responsible in the public mind for the success or failure of that administration. If in the minds of the voters of this county an administration is not a success, the President is held responsible and voted out of office. Somebody must be held responsible, and why not the head? If this duty to the tax payers of Bourbon had been properly performed, Judge Dundon would have stuck a feather in his cap and said: "I did it," and solicited votes from the tax payers of Bourbon county on the ground that he had discharged his duty to the public with reference to the turnpikes of Bourbon county, in such a way that he merited the approval of the tax payers of Bourbon county, but having failed to discharge that duty he sidesteps and says "they did it," and undertakes to put it over on the Magistrates, though, according to the highest court in this State he cannot put it off on anybody else.

Will the voters of Bourbon county consent that the forty or forty-five thousands of dollars wrung from them annually by the road tax shall be expended for four years more under the direction of a County Judge who disclaims responsibility for the way the money is spent? Is it not time that Bourbon county should elect a County Judge who admits the responsibility imposed upon him by law to keep the turnpikes in Bourbon county in good condition for proper travel?

A DEMOCRAT.

OLD MOTHER PUBLIC HAS SUPPLIED HIM WITH "SUGAR TEATS" FOR THE PAST TWENTY YEARS, BUT IS HE NOT GETTING BIG ENOUGH TO BE WEANED?

Our cartoonist has not overdrawn the picture if you will stop a moment to think what the public and Bourbon County have done for the present County Judge.

The County took charge of him before he arrived at 21 years of age and gave him a college education which continued for four or five years. Take the list of parents in Bourbon county who have raised families and see how few of them have been able to give their sons a finished college education which is as much of a start in life as any young man should desire of his parents or of the public.

Then Bourbon County put him in the office of County Attorney for four years. Then gave him a second term of four years, making eight years as County Attorney.

In this office he was able to build up his law practice from the commanding position in which Bourbon County placed him and this private practice enhanced his income and all of this he owes to the people of Bourbon County.

Then the people of Bourbon County put him in the office of County Judge for four years and gave him the second term of four years, thus making sixteen years of continuous office holding besides the four or five years of the benefit of the Garth Fund.

In the office of County Judge for eight years he continued the process of building up his private practice, that position bringing many people to him. He did not even take the time from his private practice to ride over the roads of Bourbon County, or to acquaint himself with the condition of the hundreds of miles of turnpike in Bourbon County, for which duty he was nevertheless well paid by Bourbon County.

Thus the public has done everything that Judge Dundon could possibly ask for the past twenty years. After this recital of facts as to what help he has received, examine the above work of the cartoonist carefully and you will see he has not exaggerated the situation.

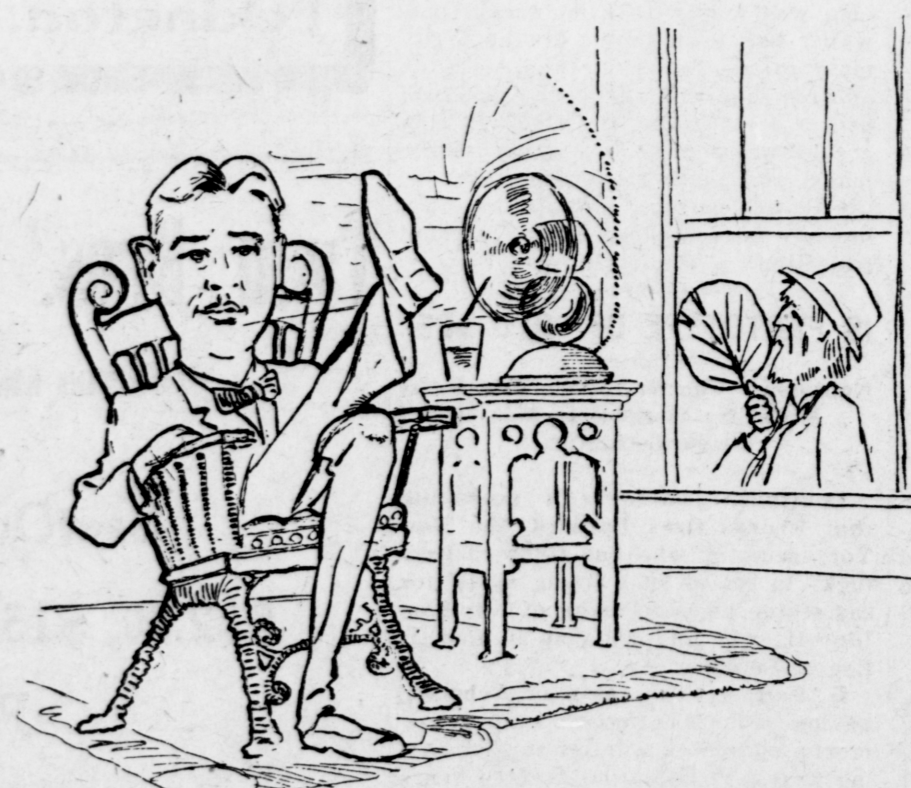

Does he not realize that he has had more than his share?

What sensible ground can be advanced in his behalf to justify the people of Bourbon County giving him a third term as County Judge? He cannot ask a third term as an endorsement because he has so outrageously neglected the turnpikes of Bourbon County, that no man who stops to think a minute will give him the endorsement of his vote. If you do not believe he neglected the turnpikes of Bourbon County, read the report of the Grand Jury made after examining witnesses from every part of the County as to the condition of the roads of Bourbon County.

If you want to ratify the shameful waste of the taxes paid by the people of Bourbon County for turnpikes for the past eight years, then vote for Dundon.

If you want to protest against the condition of the roads of Bourbon County and the waste of the people's money, record your protest by voting against Dundon.

IT IS TIME FOR A CHANGE—RECORD YOUR VOTE FOR A CHANGE.

Judge Dundon in the act of inspecting the turnpikes of Bourbon County. He has inspected them for eight years in the same way. (If you don't believe it, ask the Grand Jury who investigated the subject.)

The tax-payer at the window (whose palm fan is supplied with motor power furnished by himself) has paid high taxes on the same day every year for eight years and has acquired a forlorn expression, due to appealing to the County Judge so many times in vain to give him a turnpike he can ride over but with the same result—"nothing doing."

The registration will be held in the office of the County Clerk from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m. and will be for the benefit of those voters who are qualified to vote, but for statutory reasons were unable to register last fall, and for those who have changed their place of residence since the last registration day.

SECURE AMUSEMENT FEATURES FOR FAIR.

With the view of giving the amusement-loving people who will attend the Bourbon Fair during the week of August 19, the Amusement Committee of the Bourbon County Agricultural Society has closed a contract with the Littlejohn Amusement Co. to furnish the carnival features. The Littlejohn Carnival Co. gave an exhibition here several weeks ago under the auspices of the local order of Eagles. His line of attractions will be augmented by a number of other attractions which will bring the number to almost a score, and besides there will be several free feature attractions.

Secretary John Wiggins, together with the various committees of the Society, has been busily engaged in making the final arrangements for the holding of the exhibition, which this year gives every promise of being the biggest success since the Society was re-organized several years ago. The catalogue, which will be issued from the News office, is rapidly nearing completion and another week will find list of premiums ready for distribution.

A large number of the most attractive premiums will be offered this year in the various classes of stock and many special prizes. EDISON'S TALKING PICTURES.

The famous Edison Talking Pictures are coming to Paris. This has been decided and they will be shown at the Grand on Wednesday, July 23, matinee and evening. A complete entertainment, consisting of drama, comedy, tragedy, operatic selections and speeches by well-known men and women, will be enough to convince the most skeptical that at last silent motion picture are doomed, and hereafter they will talk the same as real actors on a real stage.

One of the most stupendous undertakings in the talkies was the staging of the big minstrel number, comprising thirty-five people. This is a genuine minstrel olio, with blackface comedians, elog-dancers, cake-walkers, quartette, and the grand finale of old veterans, showing the spirit of the Civil War. Other subjects deal with Mayor Gaynor, of the City of New York, and his Cabinet; a group of well-known suffragettes; the Miser Scene from the "Chimes of Normandy," a clever skit known as the "Musical Blacksmiths," and "Nursery Favorites," a subject that will gladden the hearts of all lovers of child life, dealing with, "Jack the Giant Killer," "Old King Cole," "The Witch," "The Fairy," "Little Red Riding Hood," and all the old favorites so dear to the hearts of the young.

There is no limitation on Talking Pictures, for every action and every sound of voice or effect are reproduced as naturally as though one were witnessing the genuine exhibition on a regular stage. This is considered one of the greatest inventions of the wizard Edison, and has created the greatest excitement throughout the country. They are at present being shown only in the larger cities, where they are doing capacity business daily in large vaudeville theatres. This is the first time they have been offered to the country at large, and the citizens of Paris will await with interest the opening night here.

If you disapprove of the condition of the turnpikes of Bourbon county, protest with your vote. Declare for a change. Vote for McMillan for County Judge.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL GIVES OPINION ON ELECTION LAW.

The section of the primary law providing an agreement among candidates in the selection of election officers, was construed by Assistant Attorney-General M. M. Logan in the following communication to Representative Eli Berry, of Owensboro:

"Frankfort, Ky., July 11.—Mr. Eli Berry, Owensboro, Ky.—Dear Sir: In yours of the 10th inst., you ask for a construction of Section 22, of the primary election law, which section permits any group of candidates before the primary to select election officers in each precinct in accordance with the condition of said election.

"My construction of the law is that all candidates whose names will appear upon the primary ballots must be counted in making up the total number of ballots, but it is further my opinion that the precincts should be considered as the unit when such groups of candidates recommend election officers for appointment, and that no candidate should be counted in arriving at the total number of candidates in any precinct unless his name will appear on the primary ballot in that particular precinct.

"This may not be the right construction of the law, but it seems to me that the law should be so construed, and so construing it justice will be done to all parties. Your very truly, M. M. LOGAN, Assistant Attorney General."

MORTALITY IN BABY CHICKS

Often Attributed to Parent Stock
When Fault Is Really Not Inherent—Test for Cause.

The large mortality in baby chicks is very often attributed to the parent stock when the fault is really not inherent. In an effort to ascertain the real cause for this condition make a test.

Remove carefully all traces of food from the brooders, leaving none whatever near them. Take some of the chicks that have the care of the mother hen and place them in the brooder over night. Continue this for several nights in succession, being sure to return them to the care of their mother each morning. Each morning note the condition of these little fellows, and if they are not injured or are none the worse for their experience in the brooder you will know that the temperature in the brooder is about right and the fault does not lie in that direction.

With the brooder eliminated as a possible cause for the mortality, you must begin to look elsewhere. This narrows itself down to one of two causes—improper feeding or lack of exercise. Now test for the food cause. Change your conditions of feeding radically and note the result. If the cause is not from the feeding, it must be from lack of exercise. Correct this by supplying them with a proper amount of this requisite.

Simply finding your chicks dead in the brooder in the morning when they are all crowded in a corner is not sufficient proof that they died from too low a temperature. Sick, weakly and indisposed chicks will always huddle together whether they are cold or not.

They will not huddle together, however, should the temperature be excessively high, in which event they will spread apart, and when found dead will usually be lying on their breasts. This condition, however, is seldom noted, as it takes a very high temperature to cause them to spread apart and to cause their death.

BREED POULTRY FOR RESULTS

Difficulty in Mating Unrelated Birds
Is to Find Strains With Like Characteristics.

"Few people realize the advantages of breeding together unrelated birds. Every time they are mated a decided improvement is had in their young, in exhibition and utility qualities, size and extreme hardness." The above statement was made by E. R. Philo of New York, a man who has done much experimenting along the line of breeding.

Line breeding is dangerous unless thoroughly understood, and the work of years can be demolished in a very short time. As above stated, the progeny of unrelated fowls is thrifty and high in utility, points which every breeder strives for.

The greatest handicap in mating unrelated birds is to find strains with like characteristics. When rearing a strain of Rocks for egg production it is sometimes hard to find a suitable male, bred for the same results as the hens he is to be mated with. Many breeders have distinct lines of birds, bred for the same results, but wholly disconnected along blood lines. In this way they can furnish their patrons new blood whenever desired.

Many a good strain is run down or ruined because of lack of experience of the breeder. One must know how and why the breed to obtain best success. A good pen of layers should not be mated with a male or unknown heredity. If a flock of birds is purchased for an egg-laying strain, to keep up their qualities, the owner must know how they were bred, and adopt the same plan with them as the originator.

Sun and Shade.

Plenty of sun and shade are necessary in the life of the rapidly growing young chicks. Coolness and shade from the hot sun are important. Trees and bushes make the best shade, but if they are not available artificial means can be provided that are al-

HIS SENSE OF SMELL KEEN

King George Detects the Odor of Onions When His Couriers Enter Room.

London.—"Hawkins, you've been eating onions," angrily exclaimed King Edward to his sergeant-footman one day at Biarritz, according to Edward VII's motor mechanic, C. W. Stamper. Stamper confessed that the sergeant-footman, the knight-courier and the postmaster lunched heartily on beefsteak and onions one day and soon afterward the king wanted to see the postmaster, so the courier, named Fehr, called the sergeant-footman, and the king was proceeding to tell him, when he stopped short, looked at the man and then accused him of eating onions.

"No, your majesty," protested the courier.

"Yes, you have. I'm sure you have. Send Mr. Hilley here at once and Mr. Fehr."

"Yes, your majesty."

The sergeant-footman withdrew and presently Postmaster Hilley was announced. The king called him to his side and was beginning to read him a telegram he wanted him to dispatch when he burst out:

"Hilley, you've been eating onions!"

"No, your majesty," said the postmaster, instinctively recoiling.

"Yes, you have; it's disgraceful."

The courier then entered the room and approached very wearily, but his majesty's sense of smell was keen, and all Fehr's efforts to suppress the facts in the case were unavailing. The king looked up sharply, sat back in his chair and groaned:

"I'm damned if you haven't been eating onions, too!"

FORGED TO BE A "ROOTER"

Young New Yorker Lays Crime to His Intense Love for Game of Baseball.

Los Angeles, Cal.—William H. Calder, seventeen years old, who describes himself as "some baseball bug," and who is under arrest here, has confessed, according to the police, that his love for baseball made him forge checks in New York to the extent of nearly $1,000. The victims were his employers, members of a prominent New York law firm.

Calder said he went to Chicago first to attend the Frank Chance day ceremonies.

"It was the greatest day of my life," he declared. Then he attended games in Detroit and Denver, and came to Los Angeles, where he said he attended every game since his arrival ten days ago.

Calder will be taken to New York for trial. He said his father was John H. Calder, a woman's suit manufacturer.

POULTRY FACTS

REARING GOSLINGS NOT HARD

Long Brooding Is Unnecessary and an Ordinary Hen Coop Will Accommodate Three or Four.

(By W. ROBINSON.)
I have always used large, full feathered hens for hatchings, only allowing the geese to sit on the last eggs of the season. A good broody hen will steadily sit the 30 days occupied in the incubation of these eggs.

If she be given no more than four eggs and they are set in an earth nest and turned once daily they should in almost every case produce vigorous goslings if the parent birds are healthy and well matured.

Some people find a difficulty during the early days of raising in the tendency of the birds to fall upon their backs and an inability to right themselves without assistance, necessitating combined watchfulness or loss.

This, however, is a nuisance that may be avoided by the use of the eggs of mature, sound stock only, the weakness being absent in the progeny of old birds in good breeding condition.

The actual rearing presents no difficulties to one qualified in poultry raising. Long brooding is unnecessary and an ordinary hen coop is sufficient to accommodate three or four goslings and a hen as long as it is necessary to leave the latter in charge, but during the first days the gosling's run, which should be on short grass, should be limited.

The best diet is a simple one and for the first few days I have found nothing better than stale bread well soaked and squeezed moderately dry and mixed with a liberal allowance of dandelion leaves, well chopped and free from stringy pieces. Biscuit meal may be used instead of the stale bread but it is more expensive and the results are no better.

By the middle of the first week ground oats should take the place of the bread, mixed with a sufficient quantity of grit to make the mixture crumbly, the dandelions being combined.

The green food may be gradually reduced and finally abandoned when the young birds are grazing freely. They should commence grazing at about a week old.

Upon a good grazing ground and with a sufficient supply of soft food mixture, of which ground oats should be the staple ingredient, goslings will progress rapidly.

BROODER FOR SMALL CHICKS

Large Barrel Cut in Half as Shown in Illustration Will Be Found Convenient.

A very simple brooder can be constructed by cutting a sugar barrel in half and using one part in the manner described. Line the inside of the half barrel with paper and then cover this with old flannel cloth. Make a cover for the top and line it in the same manner. At the bottom cut a hole in the edge, about four inches deep and four inches wide, and provide a cover or door. The inside is kept warm by filling a jug with boiling water and setting it within, changing the water both morning and night. When the temperature outside is ten degrees the interior can be kept at 90 or 100 degrees, but the jug must be refilled with boiling water at least twice a day.—Popular Mechanics.

Color.

Color is largely a matter of breed. The color character in eggs has no relation whatsoever to their food value. An egg with a white shell does not differ in composition from one with a brown shell. Eggs of the Mediterranean breeds are white, while those of the Asiatic breeds are brown. In general the eggs of the American breeds are also brown, but are rarely as uniform in color as the other two classes. Uniformity in color regardless of whether eggs are white or brown should be sought for by the poultryman. A good appearance to a crate of eggs is procured only when uniformity in size, shape and color is present.

Water Essential.

Clean, fresh water is one of the most essentials that we can think of for the healthy fowl. As the greater portion of the egg is water, they should be supplied with a liberal supply at all times. It should be placed in such a way that it will be within easy access.

Truck Replaced Three Teams

In eleven months this three-ton KisselKar Truck covered in actual service 4,760 miles at a fuel cost of $1.08 per day. Manned by a driver and one helper, it replaced three teams of horses. The average daily burden was 37 17.20ths tons. It carried an average load of four tons—one ton overload—but in the entire period named, was laid up only two and one-half hours for repairs.

"We can recommend the KisselKar Truck and assure that it lives up to its guarantee," writes Thomas E. Fleischer, manager of the Sheboygan Lime Works.

Two and one-half hours for repairs, carrying over 37 tons per day is a record worthy of notice. KisselKar Trucks cost little to maintain and are economical to operate because the problem is solved in KisselKar construction.

Note these striking KisselKar features—Simple engine—easy to operate—reserve power—excess capacity—differential lock preventing one drive wheel absorbing all the power on slippery places, and stalling the truck—four speed transmitters geared up—fourth speed permitting high speed when desired without racing engine; 15 to 20 per cent. lower fuel consumption than average trucks—light spring suspension for power plant, heavy spring suspension for load—gauge that weighs load—greatest accessibility—easy control—larger brake drums, and extra powerful brakes—special bodies designed to meet every need.

In the range of capacity, 1500 lbs. to 5 tons, you can find just the type that fills your requirements—and with the KisselKar Truck goes the KisselKar Service, which is the manufacturer's guarantee of satisfaction.

KisselKar Service means taking off your hands all of the mechanical details. A special service building is maintained in this city for the benefit of KisselKar owners. The KisselKar service is a broad and comprehensive arrangement between manufacturer and owners that cares for the car, maintains efficiency, retards depreciation and minimizes upkeep. This service is a valuable consideration in the purchase of a power wagon. Investigate it.
